

Brian Dunckel
Director of Contest & Judging
Pioneer District
March 18, 2015

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

After three contest cycles, I am confident in duties I now handle regarding the preparations, and implementation of all things for our contests. I continue to bounce ideas off of my predecessor, Ron Eubank, to learn more and to ensure that our competitors have a positive experience.

2015 OBJECTIVES

1. Function as Pioneer District representative for contest and judging [DRCJ]
 - a. Attend all DVP-C&J meetings
 - b. Communicate and coordinate Society C&J policy within the district and ensure that the district adheres to the current SCJC policy
 - c. Explain and promote the Society Judge Training Program

RP1-I have enjoyed the interactions of the entire judging community; upcoming meetings are planned for Pittsburgh.

2. Organize and administer all contest judging activities within the Pioneer District
 - a. Communicate with all contestants in district contests and ensure they have the best competition experience possible
 - b. Work with the Director of Events for the Pioneer District, to ensure that conventions achieve high levels of attendance and contest excellence
 - c. Schedule practice panels at district contests

RP1- Contest entries are coming in and I am busy managing that process; have coordinated several convention items with Director of Events Roger Lewis for the BC Convention; we will have four Candidate Judges with us this spring.

3. Promote and participate in the Society Judge Training Program
 - a. Coach and counsel Pioneer judging candidates, preparing them to be invited to Category School
 - b. Participate in training carried out by the Society C&J Committee

RP1- Evan Boegehold (MUS) continues to develop in his progression to becoming a Certified Judge. He will be among those practicing with us in BC
